To commemorate the 60th anniversary, (August 28, 2023) of the March on Washington, the Cultural Awareness Team took advantage of learning through technology by bringing the past to life in an unforgettable virtual reality experience

Decision-Making

Shared Governance Structures
The Shared Governance Retreat held in the fall semester gave clarity to the policy and procedure creation process. The old policy manual was reviewed, dismantled, and placed with the appropriate Council for revision and creation.

Employee Participation
All employees are assigned to a Shared Governance committee and participation is expected.

Empowerment & Collaboration

Employee initiated projects aimed at solving operational issues
The Business office created two different forms for placing orders and processing direct payments to give clarity to the Accounts Payable process.
- Purchase Requisition form is used to order supplies, materials or services.
- Payment Request form is used to issue payment or reimbursement.

Employee initiated project aimed at improving customer service
Bernie's Place has been relocated and revamped for the needs of our students through the efforts of Jacqueline Smith, Executive Assistant to Vice President of Student Affairs and Kevin Hunsperger, Executive Director of Public Information & Marketing.

The Employee Relations Team took the lead on fundraising efforts for an employee during her health journey. The fundraiser spread through the College district.

Pride and Morale

Willingness to take ownership of area (embrace their role)
Willingness to focus on solutions instead of fault-finding

Environment

Supervisor relationships
A supervisor training led by Attorney John Schneider identified areas in leadership that often need improvement (i.e., avoidance of accountability, lack of commitment, fear of conflict, absence of trust). Supervisors must set the example. Does your team see you as a leader? Have you provided your team with the tools and training necessary to complete tasks?

Recommendation
As it relates to the Board Policies, Employee Relationships (B3001), and Organizational Culture (B3003), I think the environment of the College would benefit from maintaining clear goals, consistent expectations, and growth opportunities that would guide employees in the workplace.
 I recommend we create an employee handbook to clarify expectations, workplace conditions, and revision of Human Resource procedures.

As it relates to the Board Policy on Employment, Compensation, & Benefits (B3004), a compensation study to review our salary structure, analyze job descriptions, and ensure positions are classified correctly will help with attracting diverse talent.
